From Editor

Since volume 4 number 4, all articles in the Journal of Perspectives on Financing and Regional Development are published in English version. This is the first step to transform a previous journal version to be an international journal version and related to reach wider readers. In volume 4 number 4 is presented five articles that come from various circles both academics and practioners. Hopefully in the next issue can be presented articles with issues and from more diverse circles.

Happy joy reading
