Abstract:

Rapidly evolving information technology today increasingly easy for every person in getting information. The Internet is a fast and easy way to convey that information to reach the wider community.

The use of the website is very useful in efforts to promote offers and inform the shop selling guitars at Guitar Lovers to the consumer. Everything is presented in a web page display that is easily understood by the consumer, from the main menu to search until guitar specifically according to the brand, type and price of these guitars. Macromedia Dreamweaver 8.0, PHP and MySQL are a few examples of the many software tools that can solve the problem.
