Abstract:

In making the application of this website is based on many historical places in Indonesia that are not known to the people, but these places have high historical value, especially if used as a medium for learning and recreation. At this time of writing the author would like to introduce these historic places and promotes as one tourist attraction in Indonesia through the media.

In scientific writing, the writer gives information about mosques, especially the religious tourist attraction located in Jakarta, Java, Sumatra, which will feature information about the history, facilities and image building that would be presented in a simple website also interesting. Making a web site starts from the navigation structure, design the page, making page, until a way to upload the website.
