Along with the rapid develeopment in information technology, make every person getting information easier. The Internet is a fast and easy way to convey that information to reach the wider community. The use of website is very useful for promoting, offering and informing the sales of helmet for the consumers in Helmet Store. Everything is presented in a web page display that is easily understood by consumers, ranging from the main menu to the specific searching of helmet based on brand, type and price of these helmets. Macromedia Dreamweaver 8.0, PHP and MySQL are a few examples of the many software tools that can solve the problem.
