A close-up photograph showing several raw animal hides and skins, likely sheep or goat, stacked together. The hides are light-colored with some yellowish and brownish stains, possibly from tanning or handling. The texture of the fur is visible, and the edges of the skins are slightly irregular. A faint watermark "http://www.bps.go.id" is visible diagonally across the image.

A close-up photograph of a wooden hanging lantern. The lantern has a white, dome-shaped globe at the top, suspended by a white cord. The main body of the lantern is made of dark-stained wood with a prominent vertical grain. It features a decorative border of rectangular wooden blocks arranged in a staggered pattern around the perimeter. The background is a blurred window with dark frames, suggesting an indoor setting.

A close-up photograph of a woven basket filled with various types of animal hair. On the left is a large ball of multi-colored wool (blue, green, and yellow). In the center is a ball of thick, yellow horse hair yarn. On the right is a ball of bright pink wool. A wooden knitting needle is visible, inserted into the yellow yarn. The basket is made of light-colored, woven reeds or bamboo strips.

The image features three vertical fabric swatches. The leftmost swatch is a vibrant red, the middle is a muted grey, and the rightmost is a bright blue. All three swatches exhibit a fine, ribbed texture characteristic of knitted or crocheted fabrics. The swatches are set against a plain white background.
