INTRODUCTION

People from all over the world want to communicate effectively in order to be more marketable and gain more attention, therefore teaching English online has become a highly sought-after career. As a result, you always have the chance to connect with these enthusiastic students from the comfort of your own home as an English language instructor. [1]

Always remember to adapt your teaching strategy to the requirements and interests of your pupils. Also, pupils have a better chance of succeeding if they have the correct motivation for learning English. [2] Therefore, in order to select the ideal approach for teaching English to adults or kids, it is important to first comprehend why a person needs or wants to learn the language before concentrating on the most effective strategy to accomplish that aim.[3]

Our suggestions for innovative approaches to teaching English include tried-and-true techniques as well as a few atypical ones that are especially good for children. [4] You may learn a new language together by using the effective current English teaching techniques that you'll discover here. Are you prepared to make the necessary jump and complete your study of a foreign language? [5]

1. Laptop/Desktop:

A laptop or desktop with the most recent version of Flash and an updated operating system is needed for comfortable instruction. Additionally, your laptop or PC need to include a microphone and an HD camera. Additionally, a headset and receiver are advised because the one that comes with your laptop or PC could not function properly. [6]

There aren't many firms that will let you teach online using an iPad or even a smartphone, but I suppose a laptop or PC is more practical. [7]

2. Internet Connection:

If you wish to conduct online instruction, a fast internet connection is required. Most businesses advise using speeds of at least 20 Mbps. It's not as if you can't have a session with a lesser internet connection, but if you want a session without interruptions, you need a download speed of at least 20 Mbps. [8]

Having an ethernet wire that allows you to connect directly to the router might help you control internet speed difficulties and minimize the headaches caused by connectivity problems. But occasionally it occurs that you can't connect even though you have the greatest computer and the fastest internet accessible because of external factors (a storm, a power outage). Having a backup plan is always advised in case of such an unfortunate circumstance.[9]

3. Video Gears - Best Resources For Teaching Online:

Psychologists believe that since we can establish a psychological and emotional connection with the instructor when we can see and hear them, we learn more effectively. Visual signals influence our memory for a very long time. Thus, instructional videos are essential. There are several tools available for that. [10]

Of course, the first one is our smartphones. Smartphones have become more complex and integrated thanks to technological developments, but they still lack the vibrancy of high-end camcorders or speakers. However, it is an excellent tool for a beginner. Get a tripod stand and start recording your classes to make it a little more convenient. [11]

The next improved device is Camcorders. With this device, you can record a full 45 to 90 minutes video. However, if you want to teach comfortably and want to hold live sessions, webcams are the best choice. [12]

You only need to learn certain essential things about the shooting, e.g., the positioning of the camera and the settings. Good quality audio is significant for online teaching. [13] To ensure that the students are not distracted by unwanted sound or low voice quality, you must invest in an audio sound system. The built-in mics are not reliable, so you need to purchase a stand-alone mic. The best place to shoot your videos is definitely outside the house, especially in the early morning, as the light is incredible and perfect for filming. [14]

– The speaker must look presentable and not overwhelming.

– The background should be pleasant

– Avoid shadows of objects in your video. [15]

Wordwall is an easy to use tool to create interactive activities, vocabulary and grammar games, and reviews.
